SOCIETY EDITOR.

The August pleasures will be a repetition of July events. The out door diversions will hold the paramount place on the month's calendar, the picnic supper, hunting party and morning auction taking precedence over any other social affairs.

There will be much travel within the next few weeks. Many are going to the expositions for a fortnight while others who have been away since spring are planning to return. The opening of school in September will find practically everyone at home and ready to enter into the duties of the most active season Phoenix has ever known.

Quite the most interesting announcement of the week is the engagement of Miss Nora May Hughes, daughter of Mrs. Mary A. Hughes and Green Harvey Dolin, state inspector of mines. The wedding will take place Thursday, August 12, at the country home of the bride's sister, Mrs. George F. Barrows on the Christy road. It will be a small affair with only the immediate relatives and a few friends present at the ceremony. The young folks will pass their honeymoon on the coast and be at home in Phoenix after September 15. The bride elect came here from Kansas a year and a half ago in which time she has become a general favorite in her set. Mr. Dolin, who now holds the position of mine inspector was a member of the constitutional convention.

Miss Fannie Peck and Miss Grace Peck of West Moreland Place have had as guest for the past week, Miss Bernice Bergum, of Evansville, Indiana. Miss Bergum is on route to the Pacific coast and an extended Canadian trip.

Miss Eva Bern and Miss Salee King who were maid of honor at the christening of the battlement Arizona are at present passing a few weeks at Miss King's home in Auburn, Ky., where they are being de-

Lightly entertained. Before leaving Washington they were the guests of honor at an interesting affair given by Senator and Mrs. Ashurst. Secretary Lane made them the inspiration for a dinner on the "Delphin" and gave a picnic in their honor at Mt. Vernon. They passed a pleasant week end at Atlantic City and also visited in Atlanta, Chattanooga and other southern cities. They will join a camping party at Mammoth Cave the latter part of this side one evening last week. Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Bailey also entertained for the pretty southern visitor, giving a picnic supper at their country home, "Ironwoods." Their guests included Miss Huson, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Harrgrave, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Downing, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McKee, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Smith, Mrs. Dyer, Miss Sue Fauley, Miss Dyer, Frank Fauley and Charles Fauley.

The engagement of Miss Marguerite Pauline Veall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Veall of Wichita to Fred Almond Dibble, city sales manager of the United States Land Title and Loan company is announced. The wedding will take place in the early autumn.

Miss Veall belongs to a prominent Kansas family and is a favorite in Wichita, where the news of her approaching marriage was made public a few days ago. At a prettily appointed breakfast the interesting announcement was told to a group of the bride-elect's most intimate friends, who are now planning a series of affairs in her honor before her departure for Arizona. Miss Veall is said to have a charming personality. She is decidedly talented and will be a welcome addition to the local social and musical sets.

Mr. Dibble, who leaves shortly for Kansas, is one of the best known of the young business men of Phoenix. He is a member of several clubs and has a legion of friends.

One of the jolly occasions of the week was the picnic supper at Riverside, Wednesday evening. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Michelson, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. VanLeuven, Mr. and Mrs. Ira L. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Peters, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pemberton, Mr. and Mrs. George Liley, Mr. and Mrs. James S. Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lowenheim and E. T. Collins.

A particularly pleasant affair of Friday was the hunting party on the desert. After an hour's shooting a picnic supper was enjoyed. There were present Mr. and Mrs. Charles Munger, Mr. and Mrs. George Lutz, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kay, Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Schuller, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Helmes and Sam Wilson.

Included on last week's calendar was a desert picnic supper that was one of the most delightful events of the summer season. Among those who motored out of town for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Royce Lechner, Miss Selma Goldberg, Miss Eleanor Sloan, Miss Lily Westervelt, Miss Marion Dorris, Miss Kate Wilson, Miss Kathryn Kennan, Dr. Gowen, Robert Beardsley, Hugh Marsall, Irving de R. Milled, Arthur Haffman and Roy Murray.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kay and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Goldwater motored to Glendale Tuesday where a bird supper followed a short time devoted to hunting. The sport has been greatly in vogue the past week, many parties having been noticed on the desert near town.

Mrs. Harold Baxter, Mrs. Robert Peabody and Miss Eleanor Sloan were the luncheon guests of Mrs. Orman B. Smart, Wednesday at her home in Bella Vista Place.

Dr. and Mrs. John Bennett, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Gillette and Dr. Ancil Martin were among those who dined at Riverside Park on Monday evening and remained for the dance.

Miss Margaret Armstrong, daughter of Thomas Armstrong, Jr. and George Heise, will be married in Honolulu shortly. Miss Armstrong and her sister, Miss Marion Armstrong, who will be maid of honor at the wedding sailed for the Islands yesterday, after passing a week in San Francisco. Mr. Heise is connected with the government bureau of science in Honolulu where the young folks will take up their residence.

CLUB NOTES

Official Organ State Federation of Clubs

The distinct note that is sounded by the rural club in the federation is described by Mrs. H. A. Guild, president of the Madison Improvement Club in an article she has written for this department. The Madison club is one of the pioneer rural clubs of the state and its activities have been followed with interest by club women here and elsewhere. Its growth has been phenomenal, its development remarkable. It has been the model rural club of the community after which many of the other district clubs have patterned.

Its success is due largely to the splendid manner in which the executive board has directed its efforts. There has been no attempt to pre-emptious programs although many papers have been prepared by the members equal to any that have been read before any of the city clubs. The work for the coming year has already been outlined and is touched upon in Mrs. Guild's contribution. It follows:

THE MADISON IMPROVEMENT CLUB

By Mrs. H. A. Guild

Our National Federation of Women's clubs reaches every city and village in America. It is taken for granted that a woman belongs to some club. A club where her interest in literature, music or art may be cultivated or her social or civic nature find expression. In all this club movement which has grown within the past fifty years rural women have held no part. The rural woman's club is still so new that we are surprised and glad to hear of one's being organized. The encouragement of such clubs is the latest and one of the best movements of our National Federation. Throughout the middle West—Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa—country women are organizing and joining the federation of over a million American women federated to make life better, healthier and happier for women and children.

The Arizona Federation year book for 1915, tells us that there is in this state but one rural club, that of Somerton Valley—older than the Madison club. Next September we celebrate our fifth anniversary. Then we may say the rural club movement in Arizona is little more than five years old. During this time clubs have been organized in many rural neighborhoods—near towns and in the most remote parts of the state. Those officers and members of our State Federation who have done much to bring this to pass, must have felt rewarded last January at the federation meeting in Phoenix. The country women were there from all over the state. And by their enthusiasm their happiness and the good reports from their clubs added no little to the pleasure and profit of the sessions.

Ranch work, and a quiet, lonely, sometimes lonesome—environment, have tended to develop in country women, minds reflective, introspective, self-reliant. They are not used to thinking in groups. Each must work out her own daily problems. Reading and reflection take the place of many social opportunities offered by city life. Rural clubs will do well to take advantage of these facts. Let
